

Opportunities

“Africa is a land of fantastic opportunity for the Christian worker, and a land of intense frustration and disappointment. Anyone feeling that they want to establish a work there has to settle for the long haul, and little immediate return. But if we can last the course, it is rewarding beyond description.”

Jim Smith and the Serving Africa team have been working in Ghana for over 10 years, and have had many experiences—good and not so good. Through them, they have learned many lessons which have shaped their twenty first century thinking about mission.

In this book, they share what they have learnt, and their vision for the future.

Jim Smith runs the Serving Africa Mission. He has been an Anglican minister for 40 years. His wife, Mary, leads the work for women in England and Ghana.
